Circava System™

is a novel approach to allergy treatment

Those suffering from moderate to severe allergies and allergic asthma typically have two options: Commit to long, inconvenient, restrictive, and expensive allergy shot protocols. Or rely on over-the-counter and prescription medications for temporary symptom relief without any long-term results.

Circava System offers powerful, personalized immunotherapy treatment for long-term allergy relief without the need for injections. You administer the therapy yourself from the comfort of your own home. It even works for patients with autoimmune diseases and those as young as 3.5 years old.<sup>1</sup>

Allergies are a major cause of illness in the U.S., affecting up to 30-50% of the population.

However, 40% of patients receiving subcutaneous immunotherapy (SCIT) injections quit before three years of treatment, and over 50% will quit before five years of treatment.<sup>2</sup> The reasons cited include the frequency of injections, the duration of treatment, and the time required to schedule and commute for treatment.<sup>3</sup>

Fast Relief

Circava System therapy may deliver relief in as little as four weeks.<sup>1</sup> The patented process is similar to but not comparable to standard oral drops because it is administered in the oral vestibular space (between your cheek/lower lip and gum), not under the tongue. It also takes advantage of your body's natural circadian cycle of the immune system for results that are evident sooner.

With thousands of treatments performed, there have been no reported severe reactions. Some patients may experience mild, temporary inflammation at the site of administration. If you are pregnant, you should not start treatment with Circava System. If you become pregnant during treatment with Circava System, you should immediately consult with your healthcare provider to discuss whether you may safely continue your treatment.

Powerful, Personalized and Efficient

Circava System therapy is a physician-directed treatment you can administer yourself at bedtime.

The customized serums are based on your individual allergy profile, and we'll work with your healthcare provider to formulate the right dose that will give you optimum results. Your provider's office will show you how to administer the serum precisely. You will receive instructions on incrementally increasing your dose at home for the first three weeks and afterward as you transition to the maintenance phase.

Convenient Alternative

Circava System is a lifestyle-friendly allergy treatment. You'll save time, and significantly fewer office visits to your healthcare provider are required.

Developed by a board-certified allergist

Dr. Roberto Garcia-Ibáñez developed Circava System to benefit patients. The company, Potens Allergy, compounds each individual patient therapy at a special compounding pharmacy in the United States. With Potens Allergy, your provider can treat general allergies (rhinitis), allergic asthma, bronchial asthma, atopic dermatitis, and more... significantly improving your quality of life.
